Gender Equality in the Arabic speaking community

Do you work with the Arabic speaking background community?

Are you or your colleagues interested in running gender equality sessions to your client groups?

If yes, then this training is for you!

Arab Council Australia is offering free training for community-based professionals who work with women and men of Arabic speaking background in the delivery of the Musawat: Gender Equality Program. The short intensive course will build foundational skills, tools, and knowledge as well as provide practical guidance on facilitating the program to community groups.

Developed by Arab Council Australia as part of the From the Ground Up to Equality project, the Musawat: Gender Equality Program was informed by the outcomes of community codesign workshops and existing research of gender equality training.

The training will be delivered over three sessions by Yassmen Yahya (Project Manager) and Hana Moukahal (Project Coordinator).

Sessions dates and times:

Tuesday 6 April 2021, 11:00am-2:00pm

Tuesday 13 April 2021, 11:00am-2:00pm

Tuesday 27 April 2021, 11:00am-2:00pm

at Arab Council Australia, Suite 2, Level 2, 44-46 Mandarin St Fairfield East NSW 2165

Morning tea and lunch will be provided

On successful completion of the training you will receive the full Musawat: Gender Equality Kit and you will be accredited to deliver the program in the community
